

Laws of His Majesty's Province of Newfoundland, passed in the year 1834.

4 William IV – Chapter 1 (Session 2)

An Act to continue, for One Year, “An Act to provide for the performance of Quarantine, and more effectually to provide against the introduction of Infectious or Contagious Diseases, and the spreading thereof in this Island.” (20th September, 1834.)

Whereas a certain Act was passed in the General Assembly of this Island, in the Third Year of the Reign of his present Majesty, King William the Fourth, intituled “An Act to provide for the performance of Quarantine, and more effectually to provide against the introduction of Infectious or Contagious Diseases, and the spreading thereof in this Island;” And whereas the period limited in the said Act for its duration is now about to expire; and the said Act being found highly beneficial to this Colony, it is deemed expedient to continue the same, in the manner hereinafter provided :

Be it therefore enacted, by the Governor, Council and Assembly of Newfoundland, in Colonial Parliament assembled, that the said Act passed in the Third Year of the Reign of His Gracious Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled “An Act to provide for the performance of Quarantine, and more effectually to provide against the introduction of Infectious or Contagious Diseases, and the spreading thereof in this Island,” and every matter, clause, and thing therein contained, shall be in force and continue for the further period of One whole Year from the passing of this Act, and from thence to the end of the then next Session of the General Assembly of this Colony, and no longer.
