

Laws of His Majesty's Province of Upper Canada, passed in the year 1836. Toronto: Robert Stanton, 1836.

6 William IV – Chapter 19 (Session 1)

An Act to extend the time of commencing the Cobourg Rail Road. Passed 20th April, 1836.

Whereas by an Act passed in the fourth year of His Majesty's Reign, entitled, "An Act to incorporate certain persons under the style and title of the Cobourg Rail Road Company," it was among other things enacted, that the said Rail Road should be commenced within the term of two years from the passing of that Act: And whereas, it appears from the petition of the Directors of the Company that although a large portion of the stock has been subscribed, and levels have been taken, and plans made of the projected road, yet from various unforeseen circumstances the Company will not be able to commence the same within the time prescribed by the before recited Act: Be it therefore enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Assembly of the Province of Upper Canada, constituted and assembled by virtue of and under the authority of an Act passed in the Parliament of Great Britain, entitled "An Act to repeal certain parts of an Act passed in the fourteenth year of His Majesty's Reign, entitled 'An Act for making more effectual provision for the Government of the Province of Quebec in North America, and to make further provision for the Government of the said Province," and by the authority of the same, That the time within which the said Cobourg Rail Road Company are held bound to commence their operations shall be further extended to the term of three years from the passing of this Act.
