And be it enacted, That all persons hereby or otherwise capacitated to sell, and who may not agree with the said Commissioners as to the price to be paid or the lands to be given in exchange for any lands required to be purchased by virtue of this Act, or for any estate or interest therein, or charge or incumbrance thereon, or as to the amount to be paid by way of compensation for any damage whatsoever, or with reference to the value of any good will, improvements or fixtures, may, if they shall think fit, agree with the said Commissioners to refer it to any person or persons to assess the amount to be paid, and every such agreement and the award of such person or persons shall be in all respects binding and effectual.

XLII. And be it enacted, That no action, suit or other proceeding shall be commenced or brought against any person for any thing done in execution or in pursuance of this Act, until after twenty-eight days' notice thereof shall have been given to such person, clearly and explicitly specifying the cause of action, suit or proceeding, and the name and place of abode of the person commencing the same, and of his attorney or agent (if any), nor after a sufficient compensation or tender thereof made to the party aggrieved, nor after three calendar months next after the act committed; and the defendant in every such action or suit may at his, her or their election, plead either specially or the general issue, and give this Act or the special matter in evidence at any trial to be had thereupon, and that the same was done in the execution and in pursuance of and by the authority of this Act, and if the same shall appear to be so done, or if such action or suit shall be brought before twenty-eight days' notice thereof shall have been given as aforesaid, or after sufficient compensation made or tendered as aforesaid, or after the time limited for bringing the same as aforesaid, the Jury shall find, or the Court shall give judgment if the ease he tried in Lower Canada, and without the intervention of a Jury, for the defendant, and upon such verdict or judgment, or if the plaintiff shall be non-suited or discontinue his, her or their action or suit after the defendant, shall have appeared, or if upon demurrer, judgment shall be given against the plaintiff, then the defendant shall be entitled to and recover his full costs, and shall have such remedy for recovering the same as any defendant hath for his costs in any other cases by law.

XLIII. And be it enacted, That if the said Commissioners or any person or party interested in the lands and other real property, so marked out and taken as aforesaid, shall be dissatisfied with the verdict of such jury, it shall be lawful for such Commissioners or person, at the Term commencing next after the rendering of such verdict if the owner or some person hereby empowered to convey such lands and other real property shall have had due notice of the taking thereof, or within one year if they shall have been taken as belonging to some party unknown, or as being absent from the Province, and having left no known person therein who might convey or demise the same on behalf of such party, to apply to the Court having jurisdiction in the premises, according to the provisions of the fifty-fourth section of this Act, and to suggest that they have reason to be dissatisfied with such verdict, and to give notice of such application to the opposite party, or to such persons as are hereinafter mentioned, and to give security to the satisfaction of the Court for the payment of costs, and thereupon the proceedings which have been had in the matter, and the verdict of the jury, shall be returned into Court, and if it shall appear to the Court that the application ought to be granted, then the Court shall direct the compensation to be paid to be assessed and ascertained by a jury, according to law and the course and practice of the Court, and such damages may be inquired of and ascertained by a jury, and the verdict of such jury shall be final and conclusive, unless a new assessment of damages shall for sufficient reason be granted by the Court according to the course and practice thereof and to law.

XLIV. And be it enacted, That no enrollment of any deed conveying any lands or real property, or any estate therein to the said Commissioners, shall be necessary to vest the same in them in trust as aforesaid, but it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners at their option to cause any deed or instrument, not being a Notarial instrument, relating to any lands or real property vested in them, to be enrolled, upon payment of the usual fees, in the office of the Provincial Registrar, without its being necessary for them to produce to that Officer any proof of the execution of such deed or instrument; and a copy of such enrollment, signed by the Provincial Registrar, and proved upon oath to be a true copy, shall for every purpose whatsoever be sufficient evidence of the contents of such deed or instrument in any Court of Law and Equity, and on every occasion shall have the same force and effect to all intents and purposes as such deed, instrument or document would have if the same were respectively produced and shewn forth.

XLV. And whereas it is expedient that the said Commissioners should have the power of freeing lands or real property vested in them from all seigniorial rights, burdens and charges, Be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to pay or tender to the seignior within the censive of whose seigniority any lands or real property vested in them shall lie, such sum as at the legal rate of interest would produce annually a sum equal to the cens et rentes, payable annually on such lands or real property, and a further sum equal to one-fifth part of the price then last paid for the same over and above all lods et rentes and arrears which may then have accrued and be due, and on such payment or tender, such lands or real property shall be forever after freed from all seigniorial rights, burdens and charges, and if thereafter conveyed to any other party by the said Commissioners, shall be held en franc-alleu roturier for ever.

XLVI. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to bring, prosecute and maintain any action or actions of ejectment, or other actions and proceedings, either at law or equity, for recovering possession of any lands or other real property vested in them, or to which they may become entitled under the provisions of this Act, or otherwise howsoever, and to distrain and sue for any arrears or any other dues of any kind which have become or shall become due, for or in respect thereof, under any parol or other demise, grant or concession from the said Commissioners, or from Her Majesty, or any person or officer acting for or on behalf of Her Majesty, or from any party holding such lands or real property in trust for Her Majesty, and also to bring, prosecute and maintain any other action, suit or proceeding in law or in equity, in respect of any such lands or other real property, or of any right or interest therein, or of any trespass or encroachment committed thereon, or damage or injury done thereto; and also upon all covenants and contracts whatsoever, now or hereafter to be made by, to or with the said Commissioners, and in any way relating to such lands and real property; and in every such suit, action or other proceeding, the said Commissioners shall be called "The Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland," without naming them or any of them, and the said Commissioners shall and may, by the said name, be sued and impleaded and prosecuted, and may answer and defend any suit, action, prosecution, or proceeding to be brought or instituted against them in any Court of Law or Equity in this Province, by any person or party whomsoever, and no suit, action or proceeding to which the said Commissioners shall be a party, shall abate or be discontinued or interrupted by the death, resignation, or removal of such Commissioners, or any of them; any law to the contrary notwithstanding.

XLVII. Provided always, That when and as often as there shall be a transfer of the powers by this Act conferred from a Lord High Admiral to Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral, or from such Commissioners to a Lord High Admiral, by its being the pleasure of Her Majesty, Her Heirs and Successors, to appoint a Lord High Admiral or Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of the said United Kingdom, no such proceeding, either at Law or in Equity, or before any Justice of the Peace, or other tribunal or judicial, or other Officer whatsoever or whomsoever, pending by or against the Lord High Admiral or the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of the said United Kingdom, for the time being, shall abate or be discontinued, or otherwise affected by such transfer, but the fact of Her Majesty, Her Heirs and Successors, having been pleased to make such new appointment since the last proceeding therein, having been suggested of Record or otherwise, as the Court, Justice or other Officer before whom the same shall be pending may direct, the proceedings shall thereupon continue to be conducted in the name of the Lord High Admiral, or of the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral, as the case may be, and judgment given, and execution awarded with all the consequences, as if such proceedings had been originally instituted in the name of the Lord High Admiral or the Commissioners, as aforesaid: And provided also, that any such suggestion may be entered nunc pro tunc whenever such Court, Justice or other Officer, before whom such proceeding shall have been pending at the time, shall think fit to order the same so to be entered.

XLVIII. And be it enacted, That all such suits, actions or proceedings to be brought or instituted against the said Commissioners, may be brought or instituted in- the Court within the local jurisdiction whereof the lands or other real property to which such suits, actions or proceedings may respectively relate shall be situate, or the cause of action shall have arisen; and service of any Writ, Summons, Process, Order, Notice or other Document, required to be made for that purpose, or in the progress of any such action, suit or proceeding to which the said Commissioners shall be parties, shall be deemed to be validly made upon the said Commissioners, by leaving a true copy thereof at the office or place of residence of such officer or person as shall have been appointed by the said Lord High Admiral, or Commissioners, for executing the office of Lord High Admiral as aforesaid for the time being, to execute the powers of this Act conferred under the fifty-sixth section thereof, within the local jurisdiction of such Court, or if there be more than one such officer or person, then at the office or place of residence of any one of the officers or persons so appointed as aforesaid within such local jurisdiction of the said Court, and if there be no such officer or person within the jurisdiction of the said Court, then on the senior Naval Officer in command within this Province, or if there shall be no such officer or person so appointed then resident within this Province, and the said senior Naval Officer should be out of the jurisdiction of the said Court for the time being, then by transmitting a true copy of such Summons, Process, Order, Notice of other Document, through the Post Office, directed to Her Majesty's Attorney General for that section of this Province in which such suit, action or proceeding shall be brought or be pending.

XLIX. And be it enacted, That in all suits, actions and other proceedings at law or in equity, in which a verdict shall pass, or judgment or decision shall, be given for or in favor of the said Commissioners, the said Commissioners shall in addition to all damages to which they may be entitled, have judgment for their full costs and charges in such suits, actions or proceedings, to be assessed and taxed against the defendant or other opposing party, and to be recovered and levied in the same manner and form as they might have been assessed, taxed, recovered and levied in favor of any private party.

L. Provided always, and be it enacted, That nothing herein, contained, shall be taken to defeat or abridge, in any such action or other proceeding, the several rights, privileges and prerogatives of Her Majesty, Her Heirs and Successors, but that in all such suits, actions and other proceedings brought or instituted in the name of the said Commissioners, and in all matters relating thereto, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners to claim, exercise and enjoy all the same rights, privileges and prerogatives which have been heretofore claimed, exercised and enjoyed, in any suits, actions or proceedings whatsoever in any Court of Law or of Equity, by Her Majesty or Her Royal Predecessors, in the same manner as if the subject matter of such suits, actions or other proceedings were vested in Her Majesty, and as if Her Majesty were actually made a party to the same: Provided also that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, if so advised, to proceed by information in the proper Court of King's Bench or Queen's Bench, or Superior Court, or by any other Crown Process, legal or equitable, in any case in which such suits, actions or other proceedings might otherwise have been instituted by the said Commissioners.

LI. And be it enacted, That in all contracts of every description, and in all conveyances, surrenders, leases, and in other deeds, and in other instruments whatsoever relating to the public service, which shall or may be made or entered into by, to or with the said Commissioners, or whereunto they shall be a party, it shall be sufficient to call or describe them by the style and title of the "Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland," without naming them or any of them, and all such contracts, conveyances, surrenders, leases and other deeds and instruments, wherein the said Commissioners shall be so called and described as aforesaid, shall be as valid and effectual and shall have the same force and effect to all intents and purposes whatsoever, as if the said Commissioners had been particularly named and described therein, and with regard to their successors in office, as if such successors had made and entered into the same, and had been named and described therein.

LII. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to give any notice, and make any entry, claim or demand which it shall be requisite or expedient to give or make on behalf of Her Majesty, with a view to compel any tenant, lessee, or occupier of any lands or other real property which shall be tested in the said Commissioners under the provisions of this Act, to quit or deliver up possession thereof or to compel the performance of any covenant, contract or engagement relating thereto, or to recover possession on nonperformance of any covenant, contract or agreement, or to compel the payment of any sum of money which ought to be paid in respect thereof, and to give any other notice and make any claim or demand, or to do any other act or thing which it shall be requisite to make, give, or do on behalf of Her Majesty, touching or concerning any such lands or other real property, or any right, title or interest therein; and the same being so made, given or done, shall be valid and effectual to all intents and purposes whatsoever.

LIII. And be it enacted, That nothing contained in this Act, or to be contained in any covenant, contract, lease, or other instrument hereby authorized to be entered into, made, taken or executed by the said Commissioners, or any of them, or by any person or officer acting under them, shall extend to charge the persons of such Commissioners, person or officer executing such covenant, contract, lease or other instrument, or their heirs, executors, administrators, curators, or other legal representatives, or their or any of their own proper lands or tenements, goods or chattels, with the performance of any of the covenants, conditions and agreements in such covenants, contract or lease, or other instrument entered into on the part of such Commissioners for the public service, and by their name of office as aforesaid; nor shall the said Commissioners, or any of them, be personally liable; nor shall any property of such Commissioners, or any of them, be liable to any legal process or execution in such suits, actions, or other proceedings as aforesaid.

LIV. And be it enacted, That the Courts into which all inquisitions to be taken under this Act shall be returned, to which all appeals upon such inquisitions shall lie, and which shall have jurisdiction in the matter of all moneys paid into Her Majesty's Public Provincial Treasury under the same, with all the other powers, authority and jurisdiction conferred upon such Court for the better carrying this Act into effect, shall be Her Majesty's High Court of Chancery for Upper Canada, and Her Majesty's Superior Court for Lower Canada, and that in all cases in which the lands or other real property in respect of which the proceedings have arisen or are required, shall be situate in Upper Canada, all such jurisdiction in the premises shall be vested in and belong to Her Majesty's said High Court of Chancery for Upper Canada, and not in or to the said Superior Court; and that in all cases in which such lands or other real property shall be situate in Lower Canada, all such jurisdiction in the premises shall be vested in and belong to Her Majesty's Superior Court for Lower Canada, and not in or to the said Court of Chancery: Provided always, nevertheless, firstly, that nothing herein contained shall extend or be construed to extend to preclude appeals from such decision of the said Courts respectively in the premises as would be incident to such decisions, from the nature or character thereof, according to the law of that section of the Province within which such Courts respectively have jurisdiction; and provided also, secondly, that nothing herein contained shall extend or be construed to extend to derogate from the original summary powers by this Act conferred in certain cases on Justices of the Peace or other local Officers, or to prevent any such summary proceedings before any such Sheriff or others from being received or otherwise dealt with according to the laws of that section of the Province in which they shall have taken place.

LV. And be it enacted, That whenever it shall please Her Majesty, Her Heirs or Successors, to appoint a Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom, then and so long and as often as there shall be a Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom, all the lands and powers vested in or given or hereafter to be vested in or given to the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of the said United Kingdom, under or by virtue of any Act now in force, or of this Act, or of any Act or Acts in this present Session of Parliament, or hereafter to be passed, shall be and become vested in the Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom for the time being, in trust for Her Majesty, Her Heirs and Successors for the public service, and lie, for the time being, shall be the sole Commissioner for carrying this Act into effect; but that when and so often as there shall be no Lord High Admiral of the said United Kingdom, but it shall please Her Majesty, Her Heirs or Successors, to appoint any persons Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of the said United Kingdom, then so long as the said office shall be executed by Commissioners as aforesaid, all acts, deeds, matters and things to be done or executed by the said Commissioners in pursuance or under the authority of this Act, may be done or executed by any two of such Commissioners for the time being, and the same shall be as valid and effectual as if done or executed by all the said Commissioners.

LVI. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful, for the Lord High Admiral of the said United Kingdom for the time being, or if there be no Lord High Admiral, then for the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral for the time being, or for any two or more of such Commissioners, and he or they respectively are hereby empowered from time to time as occasion may require, to authorize and empower any person or persons, or any Officer or Officers, by his or their name or title of office, to exercise or execute all or any of the powers, authorities or duties, or to perform and do and execute all or any acts, matters and things, which, by virtue of this Act, the said Lord High Admiral or Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of the said United Kingdom, may exercise, execute, perform or do, as validly and effectually as the said Lord High Admiral or Commissioners aforesaid might exercise, execute, perform and do the same, and to revoke such authority at pleasure, and such authority shall, notwithstanding the death, resignation, or removal from office of such Lord High Admiral or Commissioner, or any one or more of them who shall have given the same, remain in force as if given by the said Lord High Admiral or Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral for the time being, until it shall be revoked by the said Lord High Admiral for the time being, or by the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral for the time being, or any two of them.
